

Fran Lewis lives in the Bronx and is the author of My Name is Bertha and Bertha Speaks Out. She hopes Bertha Fights Back and her first 2 books make a positive impact on all children and adults who have ever had a weight problem or difficulties with self-esteem. Fran and Bertha want you to know that you are unique and special just because you are you.

Jamie Miller is the illustrator of My Name is Bertha, Bertha Speaks Out and Bertha Fights Back. She works as an illustrator for other authors upon request. She lives in Florida with her two children Dani and Kati and her husband, Rob. Rob is in Real Estate and works for a Property Management Company.

Fran and Jamie are currently working on their fourth book about Alzheimer's. In order to honor Fran's mom, Ruth Swerdloff and anyone who has ever had a family member with the illness.

Dani Nicole Miller is an honor student in middle school. She's presently working on more ideas for their next book.
